JOIN THE REVOLUTION

Health, wellness, and self-care at the NCI National Health and Wellness exhibition. This exciting event brings together experts, practitioners, and enthusiasts to share knowledge, skills, and inspiration for a healthier and happier you. The National Health and Wellness exhibition is to provide a comprehensive platform that empowers individuals to prioritize their health and wellness by educating them on the latest trends, research, and best practices through expert-led sessions, workshops, and panels. The event aims to engage attendees in interactive activities. Additionally, it seeks to encourage attendees to adopt healthy habits and behaviors by providing resources, support, and motivation through its vendor fair, health screenings, and wellness workshops. The exhibition also aims to foster a sense of community among attendees by creating a welcoming and inclusive environment that promotes connection, support, and mutual understanding. Furthermore, it aims to promote local businesses and organizations that offer health and wellness services, products, and resources, thereby supporting the local economy and enhancing the overall health and wellness landscape.

Our Venue

The NCI National Health and Wellness Fest, in conjunction with the National Congress on Nutrition and Public Health, will take place at the Ground of Government Medical College, Dehradun, Uttarakhand. This large-scale event will host over 1,000 delegates from across the country, including experts in nutrition, public health, medicine, research, and policy.

Importantly, the fest will be open to the public, offering free access to health camps, wellness activities, nutrition exhibitions, expert talks, and awareness drives. Situated in the heart of the Garhwal region, Dehradun serves as a vital hub for healthcare access in Uttarakhand, making it an ideal venue to promote inclusive health education and community engagement.
